AMICABLY ADJUSTED.
Harmony Restored at the Inmate Asylum.
—Dr. Walker is Satisfied and Dr. Rogers Yields None of His Prerogatives.

The probabilities are that before the dew drops fall this evening peace will prevail at the inmate asylum. The serious state of affairs yesterday caused a heavy summoning of the board of trustees together. Dr. Harrison, secretary, arrived on the afternoon train and a protracted session of the board was immediately convened at the Spencer house. It was a sub-rosa session and cold comfort was given to reporters and all outsiders. At midnight the session closed and it was understood that arrangements were on foot whereby a reconciliation would be effected. This morning the board held another session, and at its close Dr. Harrison said to a News-reporter that the difficulty has been amicably and amicably adjusted, and both Dr.
Rogers and Dr. Walker remain at the institution. Further information was positively refused from this source, but the details are tolerably well known. The conclusion is the result of mutual concessions, chiefly on the part of Dr. Walker, who, as he stated yesterday, acted hastily and under a state of excitement, in publishing the charges against his superior.
Dr. Walker to-day said that he would resume his old position, and that there would be some inconsiderable changes at the asylum, conceded by Dr. Rogers. The latter in an interview this afternoon with a News-reporter said:

"The difficulty between Dr. Walker and myself, resulting in his discharge, is in process of adjustment, but is not yet fully arranged."

"Do you make any concessions, Dr.
Rogers?"

"I stand just where I have stood, and yield none of the prerogatives which I have withal maintained."

The gist of the conversation with all parties about the old status has been re-established. To use Dr. Walker's words: "It has been settled just as I said it would," showing that he is pretty solid with the board if the superintendent did come out on top.

The Proposed Ball Club.
Manager O'Leary of the Indianapolis base ball club returned to-day from the meeting of the Northwestern League at Toledo. He was unable to get into the meeting, but he learned that the constitutional quota of eight clubs had already been filled, but he was made a member of the league alliance with the understanding that he was to be made a member of the league if any one of the present members should drop out. Mr. O'Leary is besieged by managers of other clubs and by players for dates and engagements, but he is forced to hold them in suspense until he can raise the amount of money necessary to justify him in making contracts.
About $1,500 of the capital stock of the club has been subscribed, and he is very anxious to obtain $1,200 more. To this end he will undertake to sell fifty season tickets at twenty-five dollars each. He is confident that he can secure a team that will result in credit on the city, having many good ball men to select from.

The relations between the National, American and Northwestern leagues are entirely amicable, so that he who is able to bring the very best clubs to the city. His correspondence shows that the base-ball fever is raging hotter than ever, and if the people of Indianapolis will only rally to his support he will be able to give all ball lovers abundant sport during the coming season. He now desires to receive proposals for building a fence ten feet high enclosing a square of 400 feet, and such a promise can be sent to 25 North Illinois street.

DR. STEVENS' REMOVAL.
The Charges Preferred by the State Health Board Against the Secretary-General of the Indiana State Board of Health—An Ugly Case.

There is "music in the air" at nearly all the state institutions, the "good time" has stirred up the penitentiaries; the inmate hospital is a current sensation; and yesterday the action of the state health board added to the discord. The peremptory removal of Dr. Thaddeus M. Stevens, secretary of the state board of health, yesterday afternoon, as noted in the News, was the concluding act of his trial for incompetency which began nearly a year ago. For obvious reasons, chiefly because the board desired to present an unbroken front in its efforts to obtain the approval of the legislature and a new lease of life at its hands, the charges were not pressed to a final hearing until at yesterday's session. They may be summarized as follows: Fumanship on the part of the secretary in making statements as to the business and work of the board wavering, loose and indirect, the board thereby having been kept uncertain as to what he was doing or would do; making requests for clerk without approval of the board, and paying him a salary beyond the worth of his services; and a second clerk for whom there was nothing to do; purchase of unnecessary furniture and injudicious selection of supplies; failure to resign after promising so to do; employment of a porter without authority from the board, when being investigated for incompetency and extravagance; failure to submit to the board the annual report of the board, and the annual report of the annual report to the governor. These charges were formally signed by Dr. Compton, as president of the board, and by Dr.
Partridge as secretary, pro tem, it further being ordered that he turn over his office to his successor.

Dr. Stevens thereupon submitted the following protest in writing:

President J. W. Compton: I hereby protest against the action of the State Board of Health in declaring the office of secretary vacant, and also protest against the action of the board in electing a secretary in my place. Under the statute the secretary can be removed only for just cause, and an adverse action of the board must be written, that notice of the charges must be given the accused, and he must be given an opportunity to defend himself. For this other reason I refuse to recognize the action, and shall continue to act as secretary of the board.

The board at once notified Dr. Hays of his election, and instructed him to take possession at once. The stalwart doctor proceeded to do so, but was confronted by Dr. Stevens, who declined to vacate, and declared the courts must settle the controversy. The attorney general's opinion was brought late requisition, justifying the action of the board.

This morning Dr. Hays, secretary elect, took up a strong position, in a belligerent attitude, in front of the Board of Health, and was patiently awaited for Dr. Stevens to put in an appearance with the keys of the office. He was backed by his attorney, Major Mitchell, and by Clerk Smith, who had been instructed by the board to lead all necessary physical and moral support possible to the belligerent doctor. The situation was very promising, and the war like bearing of the besieging force was sufficient to paralyze the state militia, which the secretary was supposed to be mustering in his behalf. Dr.
Hays's program was to demand of Dr.
Stevens possession of the office, and in case of refusal to call in the assistance, at two o'clock this afternoon, of a look-out and forcibly enter the office. Dr. Stevens did not show up.

Stevens did not show up until after 12 o'clock. A risk was taken by the board —rather serious for Dr. Stevens—who seated himself at his accustomed place and began to write. Dr. Hays walked into the office and sat down. After a painful silence of some minutes Dr.
Hays said: "Yesterday, Dr. Stevens, I made a formal demand for the keys of this office; will you now deliver them?" Dr.
Stevens emphatically answered: "No, sir." I will not. Dr. Hays then sent for attorney Mitchell, and Dr. Stevens for attorney Wallace. Major Mitchell brought a locksmith with him. Mr. Wallace proceeded to say that Dr. Hays and party were regarded as trespassers. "We know you are," said the doctory major. Dr. Hays asked Clerk Smith where the board's property was; whereupon Dr. Stevens jumped up and looked at all the desks and put the keys in his pocket. By the advice of his attorney Dr. Stevens then left the office, taking his private papers with him, and entered the office of Dr. Hays.
Dr. Hays at once had new locks put on the doors, and if Dr. Stevens returns, he will find that his keys will not work. Dr. Hays, moreover, threatens to arrest him if he attempts to enter the office.
Dr. Stevens will bring suit in the courts and demand that Hays show cause for seizing control of the office of the secretary of the state health board. He will plead that he should have been given time and opportunity to refute all charges against him prior to dismissal.

Henry F. Patrick, of Martinsville, was killed by a horse on the Indianapolis and Vandalia depot last night about 11 o'clock. The police shortly afterwards arrested Charles Hall, a South Illinois street saloon. Hall was recovered by Patrick as he was riding his horse. He was sent to the grand jury today. The highwaymen only secured $5.
